From 9/11 to today, helping families and communities heal after tragedy

VOICES assists communities in preparing for and recovering from tragedy, and provides long-term support and resources that promote mental health care and wellness, for victims' families, responders and survivors.

In response to the pandemic, VOICES established the Coronavirus Response Program to provide information and guidance for families and communities, including COVID-19 Tip Sheets, community discussion groups, support groups, and webinars led by subject matter experts.

All proceeds will benefit VOICES programs in the coming year, including a new initiative in honor of late Chairman Kurt Wolfgruber, planned for fall of 2020, to advance mental health studies, best practices, research, and resources to promote healing and resilience.

Founded in the aftermath of 9/11, VOICES leverages its nearly 19 years of experience to share lessons learned and support communities impacted by tragedy, in the United States and abroad.
